

ISO 14001: 2015 FOUNDATION

Enroll on this highly interactive and practical introduction to quality management and discover why ISO 14001 is the most popular environmental standard in the world.

The course is designed to provide you with knowledge of the main principles of environmental management and the key features of a process-based management system.

Learn how risk-based thinking plays such an important part in the Plan Do Check Act cycle.

If you are booking one of our EMS Auditor courses, we would highly recommend that you attend this introductory course.

DURING THE DAY YOU WILL...

- Fully appreciate the business benefits of an EMS
- Understand how to use the PDCA model for managing risk and facilitating continual improvement
- Understand how to identify environmental aspects and associated impacts
- Gain knowledge of the requirements to understand the life cycle perspective of your organisation's products and services
